Staff at City Library are excited to present the newly redesigned library website at www.nvcl.ca. The website underwent significant redevelopment and design in order to accommodate a better user experience and increased accessibility features. This is the first major redesign of the library's website since 2013.

After an extensive public bid process, the redesign contract was awarded to Weaver Design & Storytelling Cooperative based out of Victoria. Support for this project was made possible by the North Vancouver City Library Board of Trustees and the City of North Vancouver.
