Event overview

April 16, 2026

6:30 pm to 8:00 pm

So you've written the great Canadian novel and can't find a publisher, or you've put together your family history and want to share it in ebook form. Whatever the case, digital publishing has never been easier. Come discover the ins and outs of making your work available to the big wide world.

Registration is recommended. Each person must register individually. Dropping in may be possible, but space is limited.
