Library open for more hours during extreme cold (posted January, 2024)

Published: January 10, 2024

Categories: Library news

Last updated: Friday, Jan. 12, 15:16

City Library will be open for additional hours Friday, Saturday and Sunday as a safe, warm space during the cold weather event forecasted by Environment Canada.

- Friday, Jan. 12 — 9 a.m. – 9 p.m.
- Saturday, Jan. 13 — 9 a.m. – 9 p.m.
- NEW! Sunday, Jan. 14 — 1 – 9 p.m.
- Monday, Jan. 15 — Regular hours resume: 9 a.m. – 9 p.m.

Some library services might not be available during these extended hours. Additional updates will be posted here and on our social media channels:

- Twitter/X — @NorthVanCityLib
- Facebook — @NorthVanCityLibrary
- Instagram — @NorthVanCityLibrary

Stay safe

Follow these tips from North Shore Emergency Management to stay safe during an extreme cold weather event:

- Seek warm shelter immediately and listen or watch for updates on radio, TV and social media. Allow faucets to drip a little to avoid freezing.
- If you go outdoors, dress appropriately. Wind chill can cause cooler temperatures to occur. Limit your time outside and watch for signs of frostbite or hypothermia.
- Take care when shoveling. Vigorous exercise and cold temperatures can cause high blood pressure and accelerated heart rates. Be cautious when walking on icy streets.
- Phone 911 if you see utility lines or poles down, see any sparks, flames or smoke.

Learn more about emergency preparedness at North Shore Emergency Management.